

MILESTONE '71

"RENDER YOUR KNOWLEDGE OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST
NEITHER INACTIVE NOR UNPRODUCTIVE . . ."

What is our aim as students at Washington Bible College? Not only to know Christ, but to render this knowledge active by imitating what we know Him to be like.

At WBC we acquire a precise knowledge of Christ and His character, both in our personal study of the Word and in our academic pursuits. But mere knowledge is only foundational.

Our knowledge of Christ's character needs to produce results. We must develop in our own lives those Christ-like qualities which we have discovered. With the enablement of divine power we must experience Christ's patience in our trying circumstances, His concern in others' pressing problems, and His love in our contacts with a skeptical world.

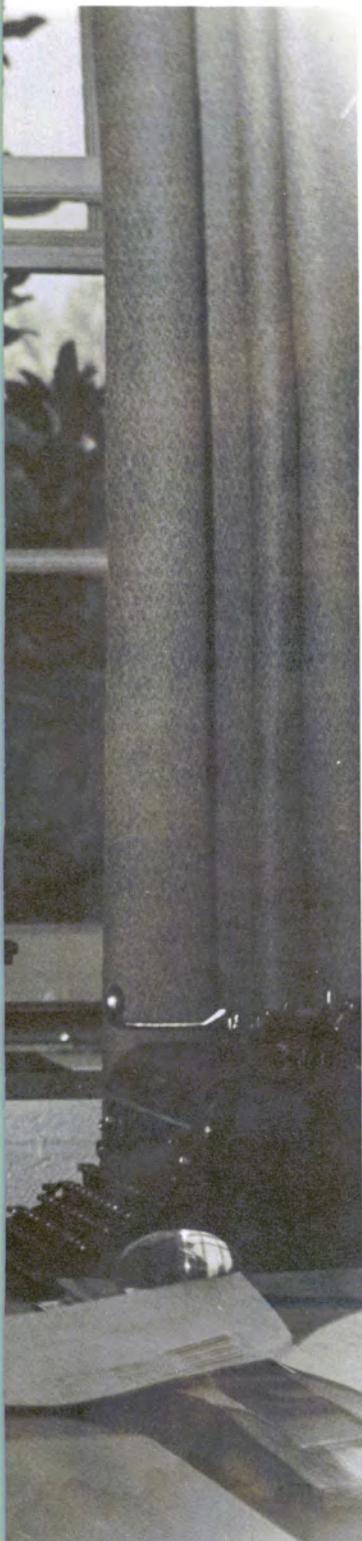

WBC affords us the opportunity of knowing Christ intimately and of rendering our knowledge active by becoming like the Christ we know.

PROFESSOR WILLIAM C. POSTON, REGISTRAR

DEDICATION

“Supplement . . . with patience . . .” – II Peter 1:6

His patience in registering, in scheduling, and in teaching encourages the student to persevere. His counsel and assistance in problem situations enable the student to resolve conflicts. In appreciation of his thirteen years of faithful service to WBC, the student body dedicates the 1971 Milestone to Professor William Poston.

In the beginning, God created,
Merely by the words He stated;
He made a universe with stars hung free;
He made an earth, and with all He was pleased.

As God walked in His new-made world,
His thoughts to the future, His plan unfurled –
He would make a man and a woman to be
In His world, a man worshipful and free.

Free from evil and worry and care,
Free to guard Eden and beget children there.
But man fell. He had been deceived.
Man had failed the test, and God was displeased.

But bright hope lay in God's plan.
He foreknew when He created man
That man would fail and sin.
So God's love stayed as it had been.

In God's plan there was a Savior
Whose great miracles and God-like behavior
Astonished all and made many know
That to hell they need not go.

That first sin of man was now no burden.
To those who accept Christ there goes a pardon
Holy and indispensable, to us it goes
From the Messiah who died and rose

A man and yet God. He paved our way to heaven –
He, the Son of God, whom God had given
Because of unending love great and eternal
Placed upon man as free and supernal.

Men who accepted Christ were saved from sin.
They found now a new life could begin;
They were right with God and free from hell.
This gospel story they determined to tell.

Centuries and centuries now have passed.
God's created world, ever so vast,
Has become filled with God's created man,
And God is still fulfilling His gospel plan.

Christ saves man as He always has.
And our God's love we can never surpass.
And those who have accepted Christ
Obey God, for in obedience He delights.

Christ said in His great command,
"Love one another; love your fellow man.
Tell men the Gospel. How else can it be
That they will know the love that comes from Me?"

Many are the men who have obeyed His Word,
And we as Christians want to tell what we've heard,
Because we've experienced our God's great love,
We tell to others what is sent from above.

At WBC we are gathered here
To delve into the Bible to bring us near
To God, Who works in our hearts with His holy hands

"Til we only obey His loving commands.

We study and learn of our great God,
And though in the world we seldom gain laud,
We tell men of the gospel, of a Christ that lives,
For they are dying, and He has life to give.

We show them love. And they don't understand
That living the gospel is God's command.
He has given this love to us to live.
He has given His Word to us to give. – DOUG COOK

*"How, then, shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed?
And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard?
And how shall they hear without a preacher?
And how shall they preach, except they be sent?"*

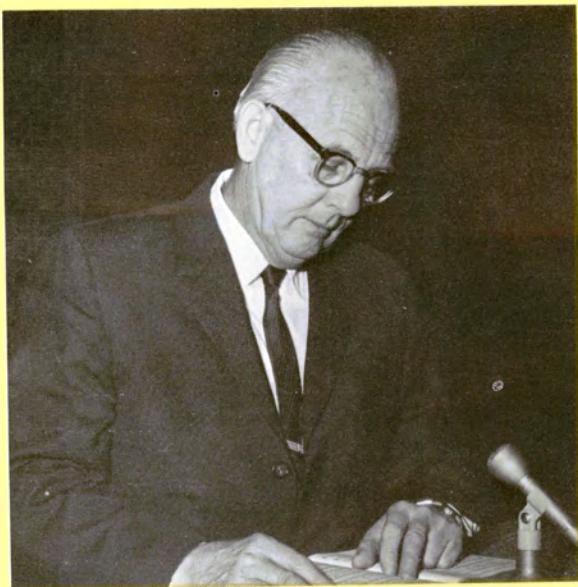

FACULTY AND STAFF

"Supplement . . . your patience with godliness . . ." — II Peter 1:6

The student does not proceed unaided in his quest for knowing Christ and becoming like Him; a dedicated faculty assist him in his pursuit. Primarily, these godly men and women give guidance in the search for a knowledge and understanding of God's character. They also offer practical suggestions for appropriating this knowledge in life's circumstances. Finally, the qualities of Christ evidenced in their personal lives motivate the student to strive toward his goal of being like the Christ he knows.

Though the staff often does not have the contact with the student that the faculty has, staff members do perform important services for the student. These include printing and promotional services, handling of finances, operating the bookstore, maintaining the campus, and planning and preparing meals.

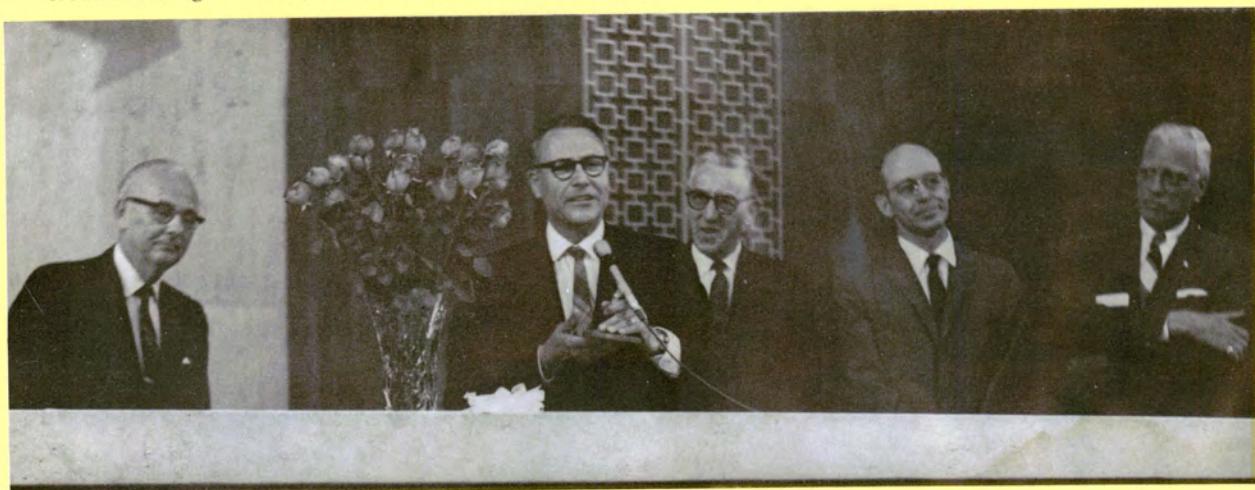

PRESIDENT

A familiar voice over the weekly TIDINGS HOUR broadcast brings a time of rich Bible study to many.

A twenty-fifth anniversary gift, a new desk, is presented to President Miles by the trustees of WBC.

What does being administrative head of Washington Bible College involve? For President Miles, it means carrying out the directives of the Board of Trustees, as he works with the physical facilities, the educational program, and engages in other areas of activity.

Since the school has moved to the new campus, he has spent much time altering existing facilities and making plans for future development. His past experience in designing and construction as a structural engineer qualified him to draw up plans for our new building, Linton Hall.

In the absence of an academic dean, President Miles has also assumed added duties in the educational program. The visit of a team from the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges in November for re-examination of the College meant added responsibility for him in preparation, self evaluation, and interviews. In seeking accreditation with the State of Maryland, he has had to prepare numerous reports and conduct interviews. His schedule also included meetings with Seminary personnel as the degree was changed from a B.D. to an M.Div. and an M.A. in Biblical studies was added.

Additional roles include editing The Tidings, WBC's monthly news letter, distributing financial reports, acknowledging donations, and speaking on the "Tidings Hour" and in churches and Bible conferences.

Thus President Miles maintains a full schedule as he engages in college activities and in outside ministries.

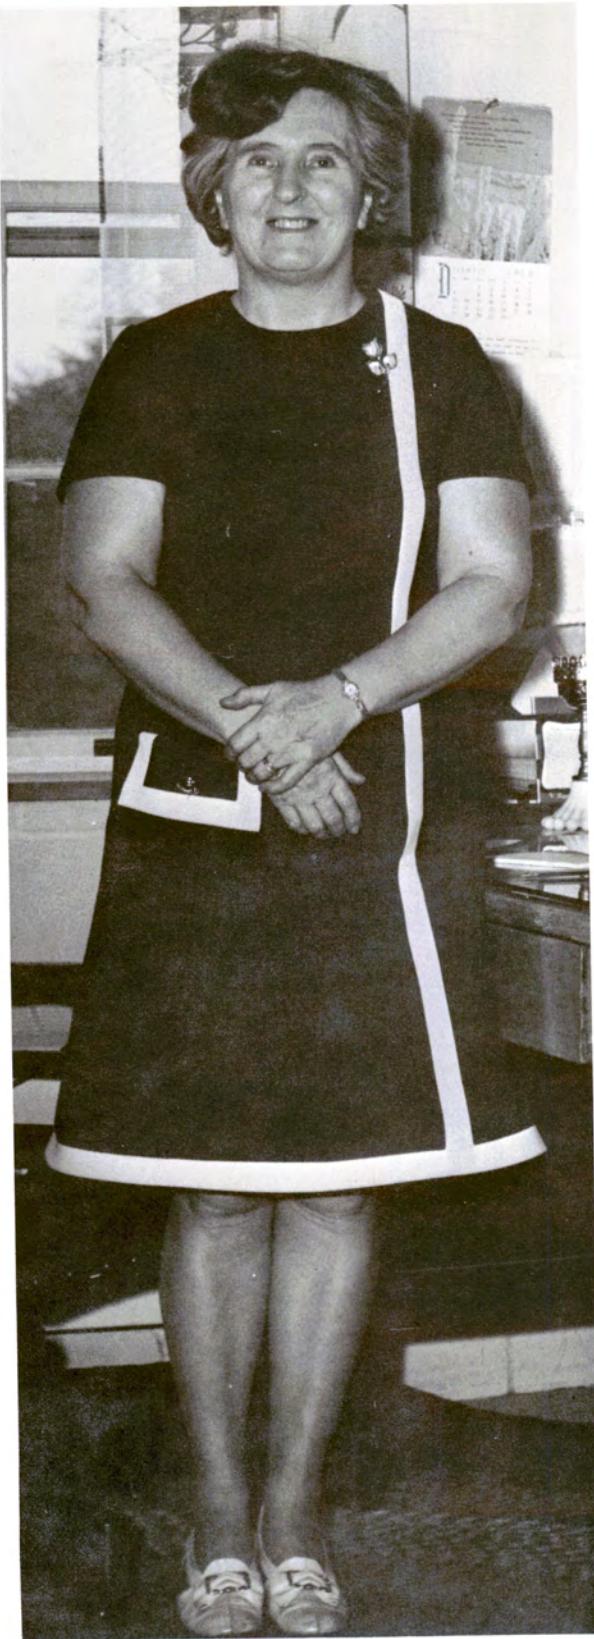

Professor Bishop, in behalf of the Faculty and Staff, awards President Miles a bouquet of twenty-five carnations for his twenty-fifth anniversary at WBC.

CLAS SES

"Supplement . . . your virtue with knowledge
. . ." — II Peter 1:5

Matthew-Mark, Poetical Books, Lucan Writings — WBC's many Bible courses contribute to the student's knowledge of Christ, for they examine the Divine revelation of truth. History of Civilization, Speech, Child Development — the liberal arts courses, which consider natural revelation, increase the student's cognition of God's truth and teach him to more effectively communicate his knowledge of Christ and truth. By integrating truth from Divine revelation with truth from natural revelation, the student broadens his perception of Christ, himself, and the world around him. Increased understanding of each of these — Christ's character, his own character, and the character of those about him — helps him to achieve true Christ-likeness. Thus each class contributes to the student's active, productive knowledge of Christ.

College Graduates Offered Advanced Learning

Capital Bible Seminary, the graduate school of WBC, equips its students to independently pursue a knowledge of God after formal training ends. Employing the inductive method of studying the Bible, the students learn how to discover for themselves the character of God and His dealings with man. Courses in the original languages increase the students' understanding of the Word and thus deepen their knowledge of God.

The Seminary also encourages its students to act upon the knowledge which they have obtained. The missions program challenges these young men to serve, both at home and abroad, the Christ of whom they have learned. Courses in pastoral ministry and Christian education provide methodology for backing up that commitment.

Evening School Locations Increase

WBC Evening School offers courses to those who are unable to attend the day classes. In addition to book studies, Evening School offers courses in evangelism, teacher training, and Bible doctrines.

This year Evening School classes met at the McLean Bible Church in northern Virginia, as well as at the downtown and Lanham campuses. This increased outreach enabled more Christians to pursue an active knowledge of Christ.

LIFE

"For His divine power has bestowed on us every requisite for life and godliness, through knowing Him . . ." — II Peter 1:3

"Christianity touches all of life; Christ is Lord of the whole life of the Christian. Christians are to be whole people . . ." — Dr. Francis Schaeffer.

Christ-likeness must be found in every aspect of the student's life so that he may develop his fullest potential as an individual. The theoretical knowledge of the classroom must be implemented in a practical way. WBC's variety of organizations provide the student with opportunity to integrate the spiritual dimension with the whole personality, thus developing the total person. Each student is encouraged to participate in the organizations in order to achieve maturity in all areas. A well-balanced program produces a well-balanced student whose knowledge of Christ is evident in each part of his life.

Student Council Eases Adjustment

Dorm problems posed the major concern of Student Council as WBC moved to a new campus with limited dormitory facilities. Student Council proved instrumental in making the adjustment by encouraging student patience, creating faculty understanding, and stimulating administrative action during the transitional year.

SMF Puts Its Faith To Work

"A vision without action is only a dream." With this as the theme, SMF combined the 1970 Missionary Conference with the Week of Evangelism. Thus the vision of a lost world, presented in the morning sessions, found action in afternoon and evening contacts with people needing Christ. On Wednesday of the week, the entire student body went to the University of Maryland to present Christ to students there.

In addition to sponsoring the missionary conference and organizing the weekly prayer bands, SMF instituted two new things — the follow-up program and faith promise giving. The follow-up program sent literature to new Christians won through student contacts to enable them to grow in their knowledge of God. Faith-promise giving gave the student opportunity to have an active part in missions. The $6700 received went toward thirteen projects including cars for both Genie and Sue and the Hunters, missionary friends of the school; equipment for the WBC van, and Japanese gospels for the world's fair.

Thus SMF challenged the student to action in personal contacts, in prayer, and in giving, for "a vision without action is only a dream."

Musical Men And Women Sound Forth Their Knowledge Of Christ

In spring of 1970, 27 young people blended their voices in praise to the God whom they know, hoping that others too would come to know Him through their ministry.

Their message went forth in a spring concert and at two Pentagon services, as well as in churches as far north as Philadelphia and as far south as Norfolk, Virginia. In May they accepted a special invitation to sing at the twenty-second annual convention of the Evangelical Press Association, a conference of Christian editors from throughout the United States.

A balanced program of anthems, hymns, and gospel song arrangements provided an outreach to old and young. Solos, testimonies, and a brass ensemble added variety to the program and provided opportunity for each member to share his knowledge of Christ with others.

Quartet Tours Large Area

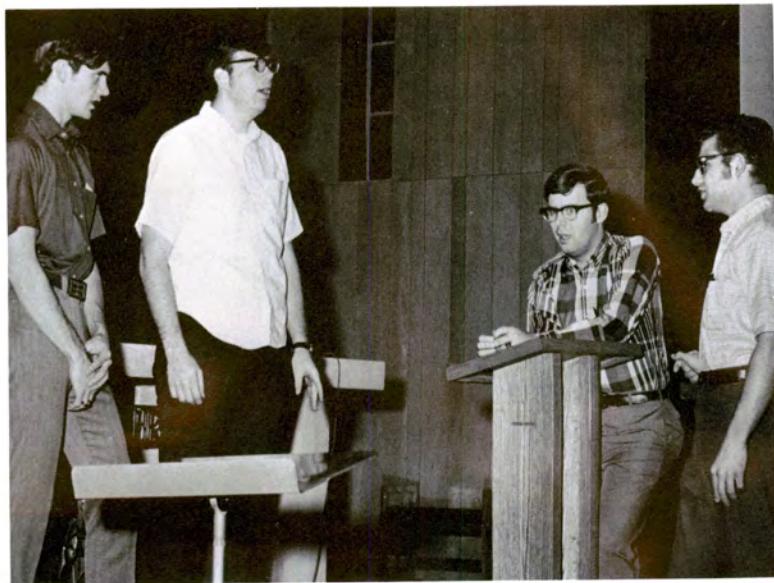

Five young men from WBC dedicated their summer and their weekends to a ministry presenting Christ in song and testimony.

Last summer the WBC quartet travelled from Kentucky to Pennsylvania and from Ohio to the Eastern Seaboard. Ministry in song at the Bible conference here at WBC highlighted their summer.

Their travels began in Pennsylvania with involvement in vacation Bible school. In Kentucky they counselled at Camp Nathaniel and sang at a county wide youth revival. They grasped opportunities to visit churches throughout their summer tour.

The school year ministry of the quartet was confined to weekends. This fall they sang at a youth banquet in Virginia and a Bible conference in Maryland. The primary ministry was in local churches.

WBC's quartet expressed their knowledge of Christ in testimony and song as young men dedicated to their hope that the whole world may know Him.

Using their talent, the quartet harmonize in the chapel.

Gary Beard, Baritone; Jerry Sprinkle, First Tenor; Lee Button, Second Tenor; Doug Cook, Bass; Dennis Shelly, Accompanist

Trio Tours Northeast

Four dedicated and busy young ladies travelled last summer from Maine to Virginia, relating their knowledge of Christ to others through song and testimony.

Their summer tour began with Children's Bible Mission camp in the Fort Valley of Virginia, where they counselled and sang. Their primary thrust was in the northern states, though. They sang in churches in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island. The trio ministered in Bible conferences as well as in churches. As they travelled further south to New York, they sang also at Highland Lake Bible Conference. Their summer tour ended in southern Pennsylvania, where they taught and sang in children's meetings.

During the fall they sang in churches, at an agricultural center, and at military bases. There were many opportunities for the trio to convey their knowledge of Christ in song. A line from one of their songs expresses the motivation for their dedication: "Let the whole world know He's our friend and guide."

Zealous Women Share Christ With Others

The Women's Chorus had opportunity to share Jesus Christ with varied audiences as it engaged in weekend area concerts and toured New England states during Spring break, presenting one concert in Connecticut and additional ones in Eastern Massachusetts. In order to communicate to each type of person, various musical styles were used in the program, including classic hymns as well as contemporary gospel song arrangements. Testimonies given by individual chorus members supplemented the messages of the songs and reinforced the effectiveness of the program.

Students Recognized For Academic Excellence

Diligent study was rewarded when the Chi Alpha Omega Honor Society recognized those who had achieved academic excellence. Awards were presented to those maintaining a B+ average or above.

The Chi Alpha Omega Key, presented to each senior with a high scholastic record throughout all four years in college, went to Linda Dishman, Phil Johnson, and Joy Marken.

Recorded – A Year To Be Remembered

Employing cameras, typewriters, and physical and mental labor, the Milestone staff sought to capture the activities of a year in pictures and in words. Work began in the spring and continued through the summer as preliminary art and lay-out plans were made and the theme was chosen and developed. With the opening of school, the photographers began their job of taking pictures, developing film, and making prints, while the business personnel executed plans for financing the book. As the deadline drew near, activity accelerated. At last the undertaking reached completion and presented WBC students pursuing an active knowledge of Christ.

Warriors Drop To Second Place

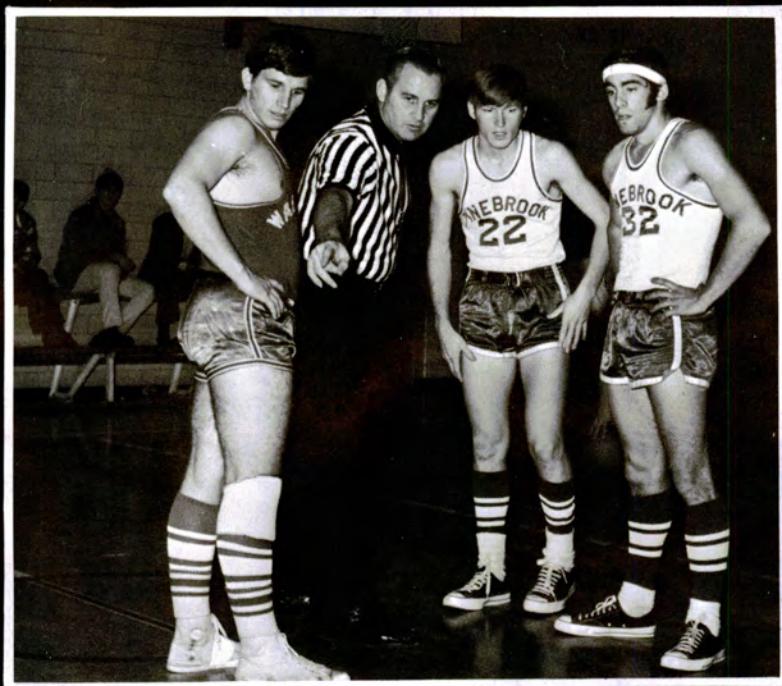

Under the direction of Coach Bennett and Coach Shive, the Warriors hustled their way into a first place tie with Forestville in the 1970 season. This presented the need for a championship match between the two. The hard fought contest was won by Forestville, 6-0, dropping the Warriors into second place in the Fellowship League.

Warriors Take Giant Step Into Collegiate Ball

The 1970-71 basketball season was a step forward for the Warriors. They left the Church league which they had joined in 1955 and began playing all inter-collegiate basketball. This meant more games and stiffer competition. Challenged by the stiffer competition, Lee Button set a new scoring record of 41 points in the game against Northeast Bible Institute. The tournament at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, highlighted the season as the team competed with teams from Appalachian Bible Institute, Piedmont Bible College and Southland Bible Institute.

Jeff Preston attempts a jump shot.

Debi Humbertson wins the women's tennis competition.

Geoff Wheeler wins the men's tennis competition.

Max Edgar instructs students on proper soccer techniques.

Darlene Carpenter wins the women's ping pong competition.

Lee Button wins the men's ping pong competition.

Additional Sports Expand Student Involvement

After spending long hours in study WBC students found it refreshing to engage in a challenging softball game or to participate in touch football. Tournament competition in tennis and ping pong provided a challenge and an opportunity to excel. The addition of soccer and hockey equipment afforded new opportunities for athletic participation.

For the first time hockey is brought to the attention of WBC students.

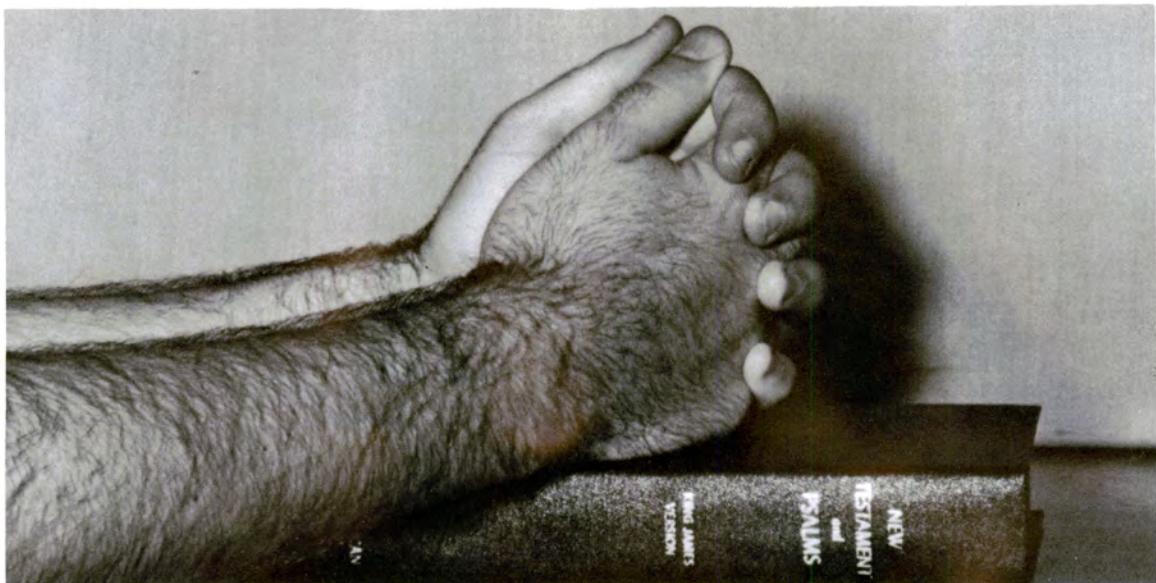

A home run swing warns the outfield of an oncoming hard hit during a softball game at WBC.

Volleyball is a favorite of the girls' gym class.

Our 60 x 30 foot pool makes swimming available to all WBC students.

Faithful Prayers Triumph At WBC

"Call unto me and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not." — Jeremiah 33:3

As faithful friends of the school upheld WBC in prayer, God worked and answered in great ways. The heavy financial burden facing the school since the purchase of the new campus was met progressively as payments came due. The new classroom building so badly needed was erected and the dedication held on January 16, 1971. God not only provided for material needs; He also blessed spiritually. An increased degree of student involvement in personal witness, especially in the campus ministry, resulted in many finding life in Christ. Daily prayer caused WBC to experience "great and mighty things."

Project Brings Many Visitors To WBC

In addition to serving alumni around the world by informing them about the school and fellow graduates, the Alumni Association also serves the school with its annual projects. This year's project included an Open House of the new campus to introduce the facilities and organizations of the college to the Christian public and community.

Mr. Thom Cunningham, GREATER EUROPEAN missionary candidate for Austria.

Concerned Women Unite In Three-Fold Purpose

"Prayer . . . Projects . . . Promotion" — this expresses the threefold purpose of the Women's Auxiliary.

The first purpose, prayer, was carried out both in individual prayer times and in quarterly group prayer meetings in Washington, Maryland, and Virginia. In addition to praying for the school and its needs, the women remembered alumni who are serving Christ around the world.

Projects for this year included purchasing black-out shades for the chapel, preparing a slide-tape presentation of the school, and sponsoring a coffee for local pastors' wives where this presentation was introduced.

Promotion, the third purpose of the Auxiliary, was given precedence this year. The women received more invitations than in previous years to visit local church groups, showing the slide presentation and promoting the new location and facilities of the school.

Women Of Different Backgrounds Unite In Fellowship

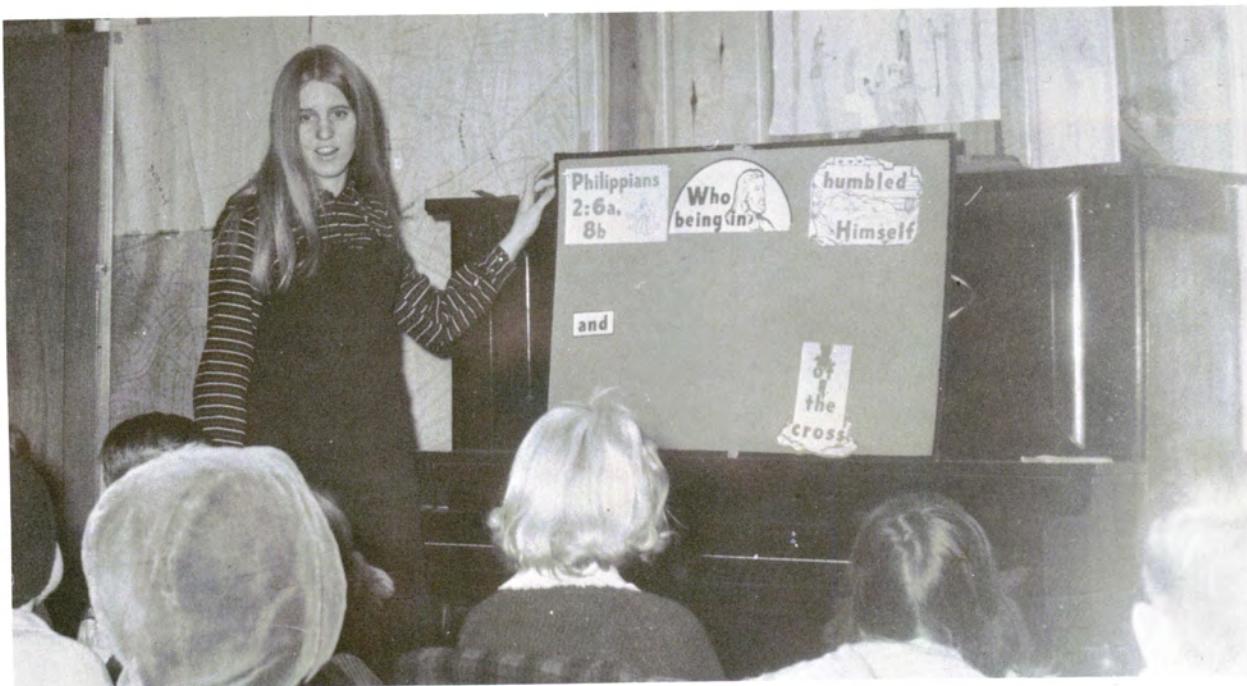

Mutual problems and experiences drew college and seminary wives together for relaxation and encouragement. Their monthly meetings consisted of times of fellowship and prayer. A message on the Christian home, presented by Pastor Hardman of the Barcroft Bible Church, highlighted this year's fellowship.

Student wives meet for an informal discussion with one another.

Joy Marken explains what WBC life is like to an interested friend at the Evangeline.

Marilyn Johnson conducts a children's church at the First Brethren Church.

Students Put Knowledge Into Action

Weekly Christian service activities afforded each student the opportunity of presenting his message of life in Christ to those not knowing the Savior. Students ministered in jails, hospitals, nursing homes, churches, and college and high school campuses.

New features in Christian service activities included visiting the airports and working with children at Junior Village. The Junior Village ministry proved very rewarding, for many boys and girls came to know Christ through this program.

Work at the Evangeline, a singular ministry which began three years ago, experienced encouraging results this year. Each week three WBC girls visited the girls rooming at this boarding house. By conducting Bible studies and discussions and developing friendships, these three had the privilege of seeing girls both learn to know Christ personally and grow in their knowledge of Christ. For the first time girls living at the Evangeline worked with the students in visiting others and sharing Christ with them.

Thus this year saw WBC students acting upon their knowledge of Christ and bringing others to this same knowledge of Him.

Charlie Swaney and Bob Brown are among the many students who take the gospel into the open air by using the WBC van.

Sue Brown relates the creation account to her students at Junior Village.

Team members Charlie Dyer, Nancy Williams, Gary Dull, Bill Reed, Kay Hirleman and Chuck Shifflett prepare to leave for the Gospel Mission in D.C.

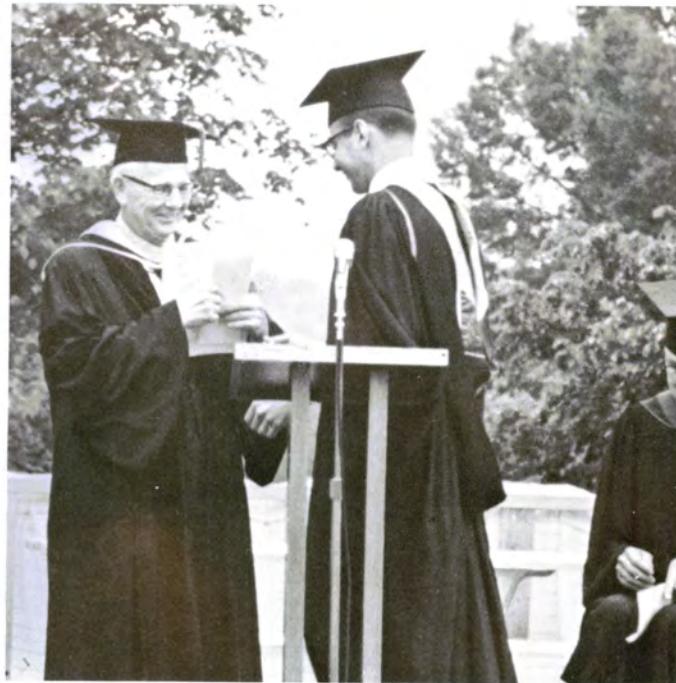

Accompanied by Mrs. Schuppe (formerly with Campus Crusade), Shirley Thompson, Ron Carr, Vicki Harner, and Kathy Pinkerton head toward Maryland University for campus evangelism.

Annual Missionary Conference

The singing of Ian Crawshaw is a blessing to students and visitors.

President Miles presents degrees to graduates.

Doris Jackling introduces her adopted Brazilian daughter, Mary Jane.

Special Events Prove Refreshing

Following the College Advance which began the school year, many special events took place which supplemented the regular school program. The Week of Evangelism and the Wyrtzen Rally gave WBC students contacts with those in need of the Savior, while the College Preview gave contact with prospective students. Missionary Conference and Spiritual Life Days provided a break from classes while refreshing and challenging the student body. The fall and spring banquets renewed contacts with friends of the school, informing and challenging them concerning the ministry of WBC.

A panel of professionals discuss the problems and triumphs of missionary life.

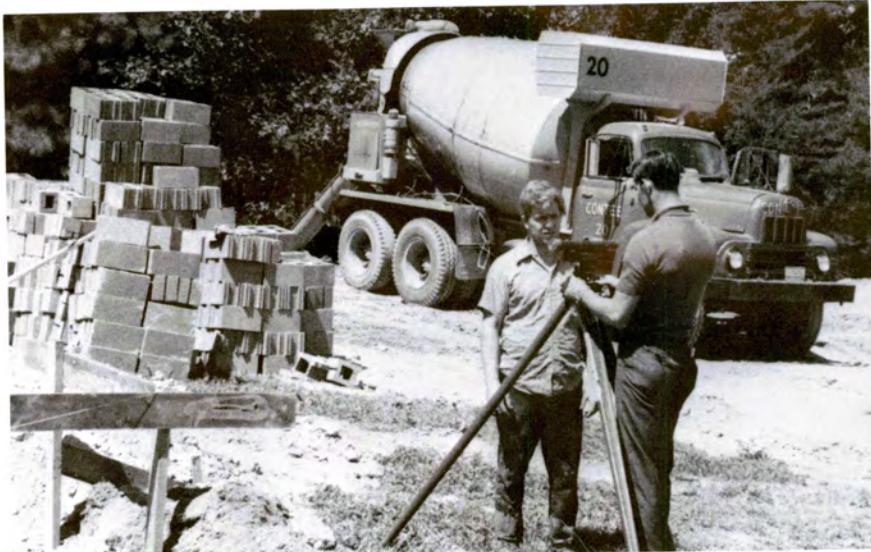

SPECIAL EVENTS

Volleyball and softball were among the many activities that students and faculty were involved in at the WBC 'Advance.'

New Classroom Building

Preparations are made.

The building project progresses.

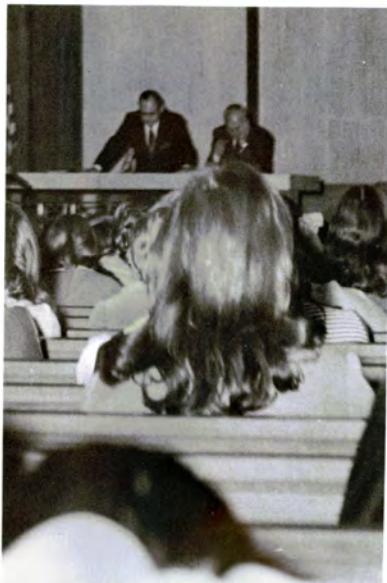

The building is near completion.

Students enjoy the fellowship at the annual Founders' Banquet.

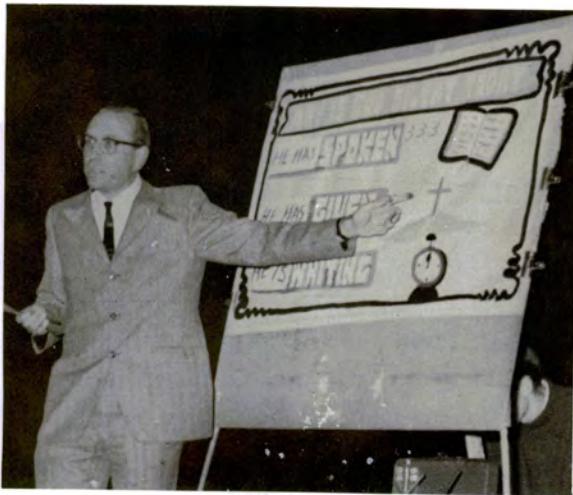

Mr. Poston closes Spiritual Life Day in prayer.

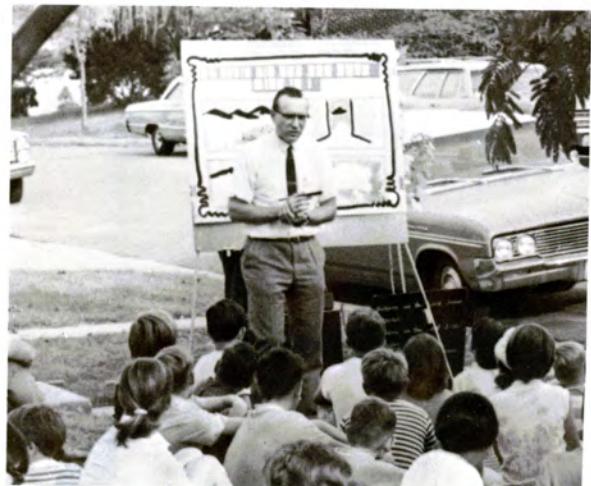

Jack Wyrtzen brings a challenging message at the annual Wyrtzen Evangelistic Rally.

The fall College Preview gives high school students a chance to see and hear of the opportunities in Bible education at WBC.

Heading up the open air work during Week of Evangelism, Mr. Art Williams of Open Air Campaigners speaks at Dupont Circle.

The Week of Evangelism gave Mr. Art Williams the opportunity to train students in conducting children's meetings.

CHAPEL SPEAKERS

Mr. Harold Reimer interprets the testimony of his Brazilian friend.

Mr. Lewis Button of the By All Means Evangelistic Association speaks on the need for revival.

Mr. Arthur Konrad represents Central American Mission to the students.

The faculty answers questions from the student body.

Mr. Bill Tarter of International Missions shares his burden for the Moslems.

Mr. Harry Bollback of Word of Life explains how a "Santa Claus" was saved.

CHAPEL SPEAKERS

Sue Helman and Genie Turney of the Bible Club Movement share their message in music and testimony.

Mr. Joe Talley, along with his family, share their musical talent.

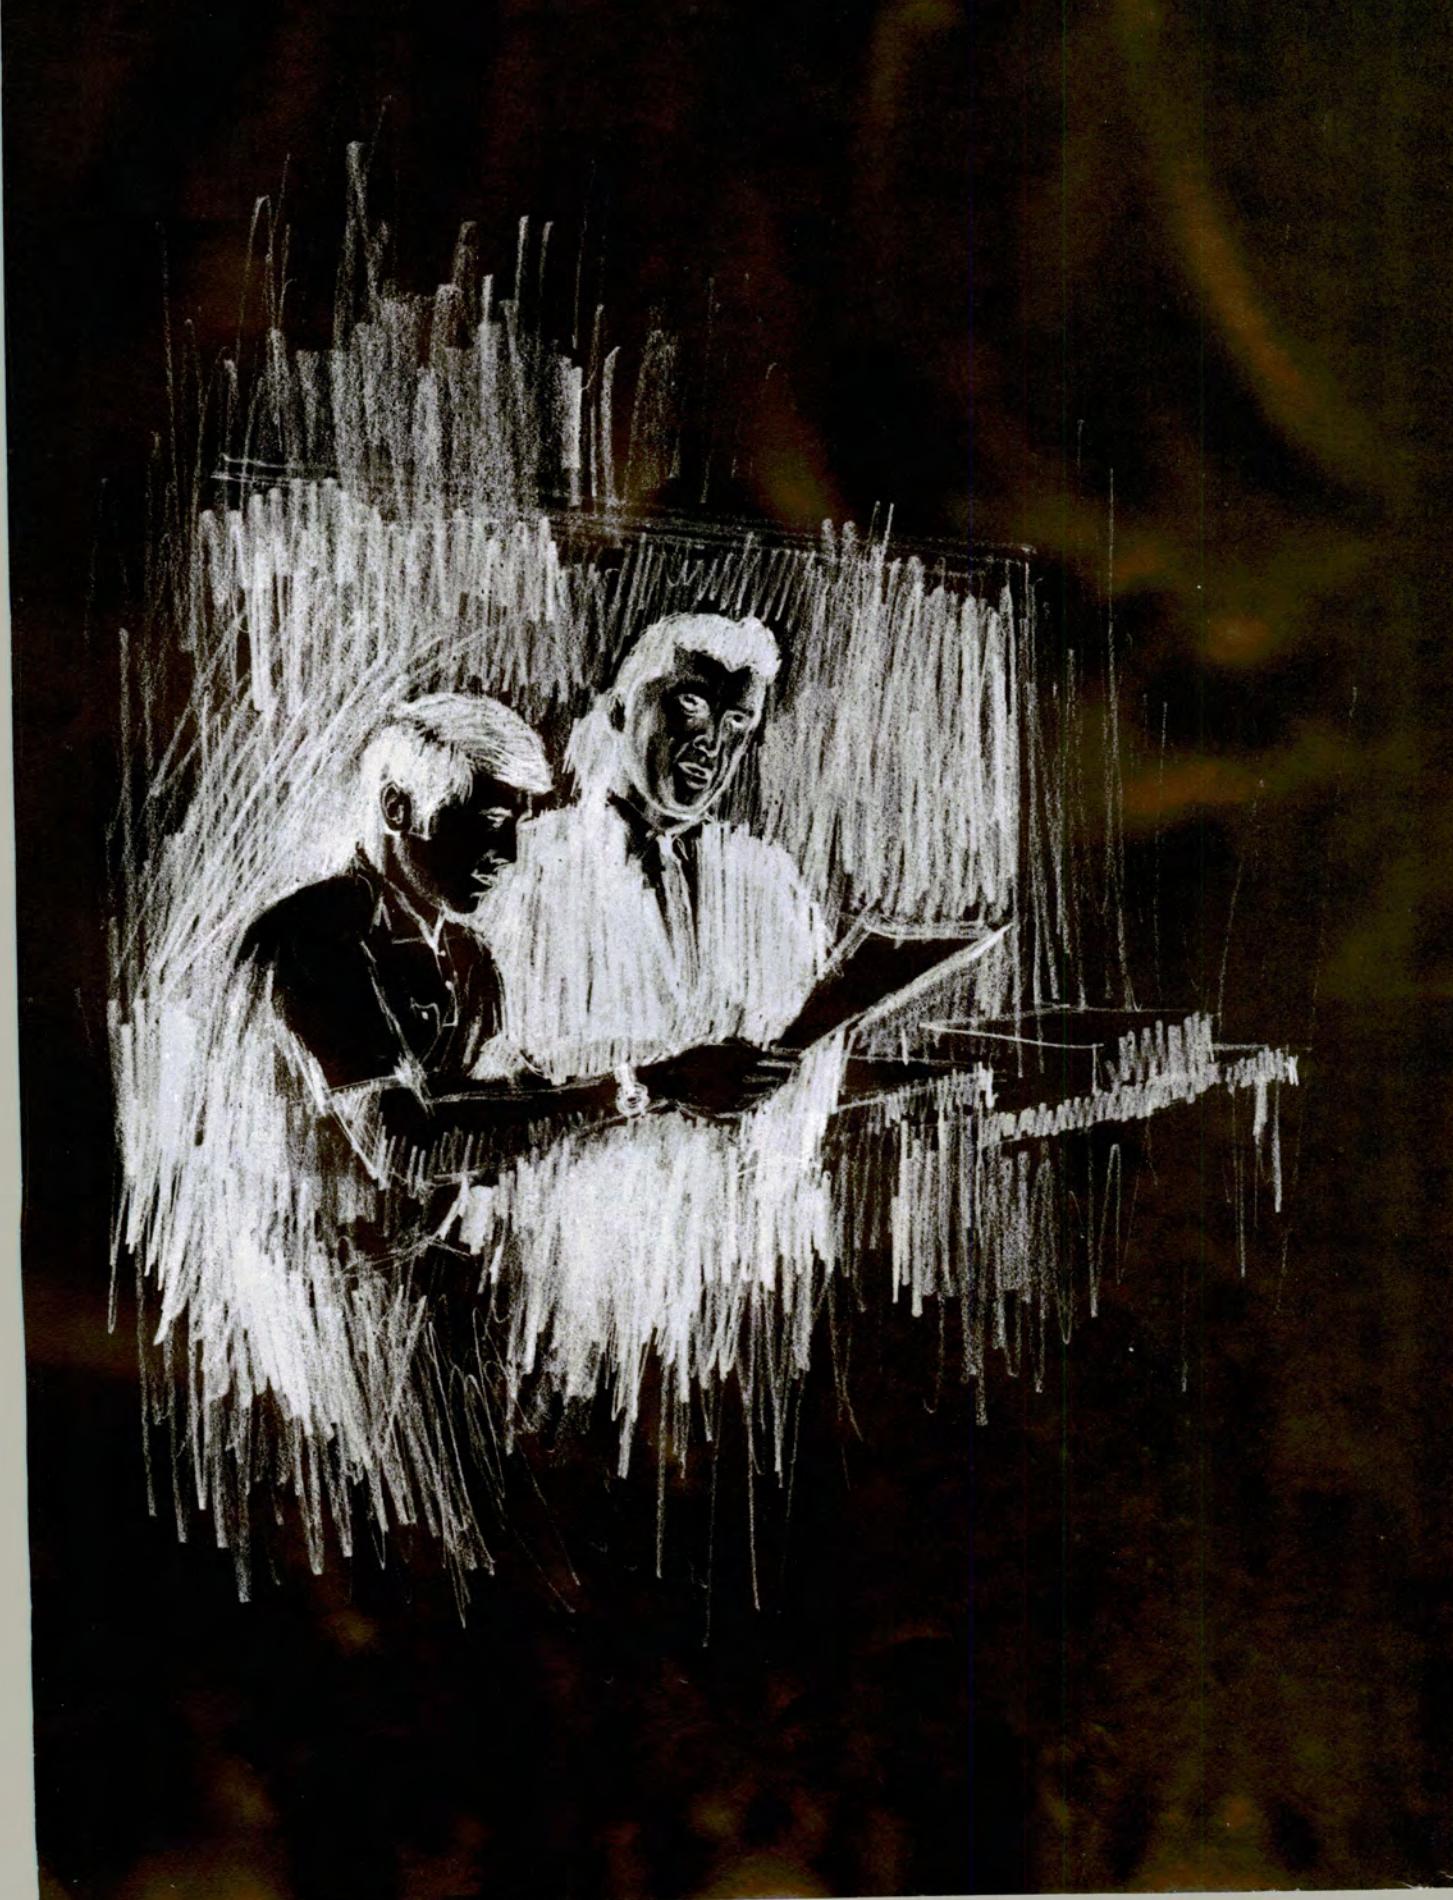

Mrs. Marjorie Harrington of Pandita Ramabai Mukti Mission tells of life in India.

Mr. Bob Boyd gives a series of lectures on Archeology and the Bible.

An encouraging challenge is brought to WBC students by European Bible Institute graduates.

MAY THE MIND OF CHRIST, MY SAVIOUR

May the mind of Christ, my Saviour,
Live in me from day to day,
By His love and pow'r controlling
All I do and say.

May the Word of God dwell richly
In my heart from hour to hour,
So that all may see I triumph
Only through His pow'r.

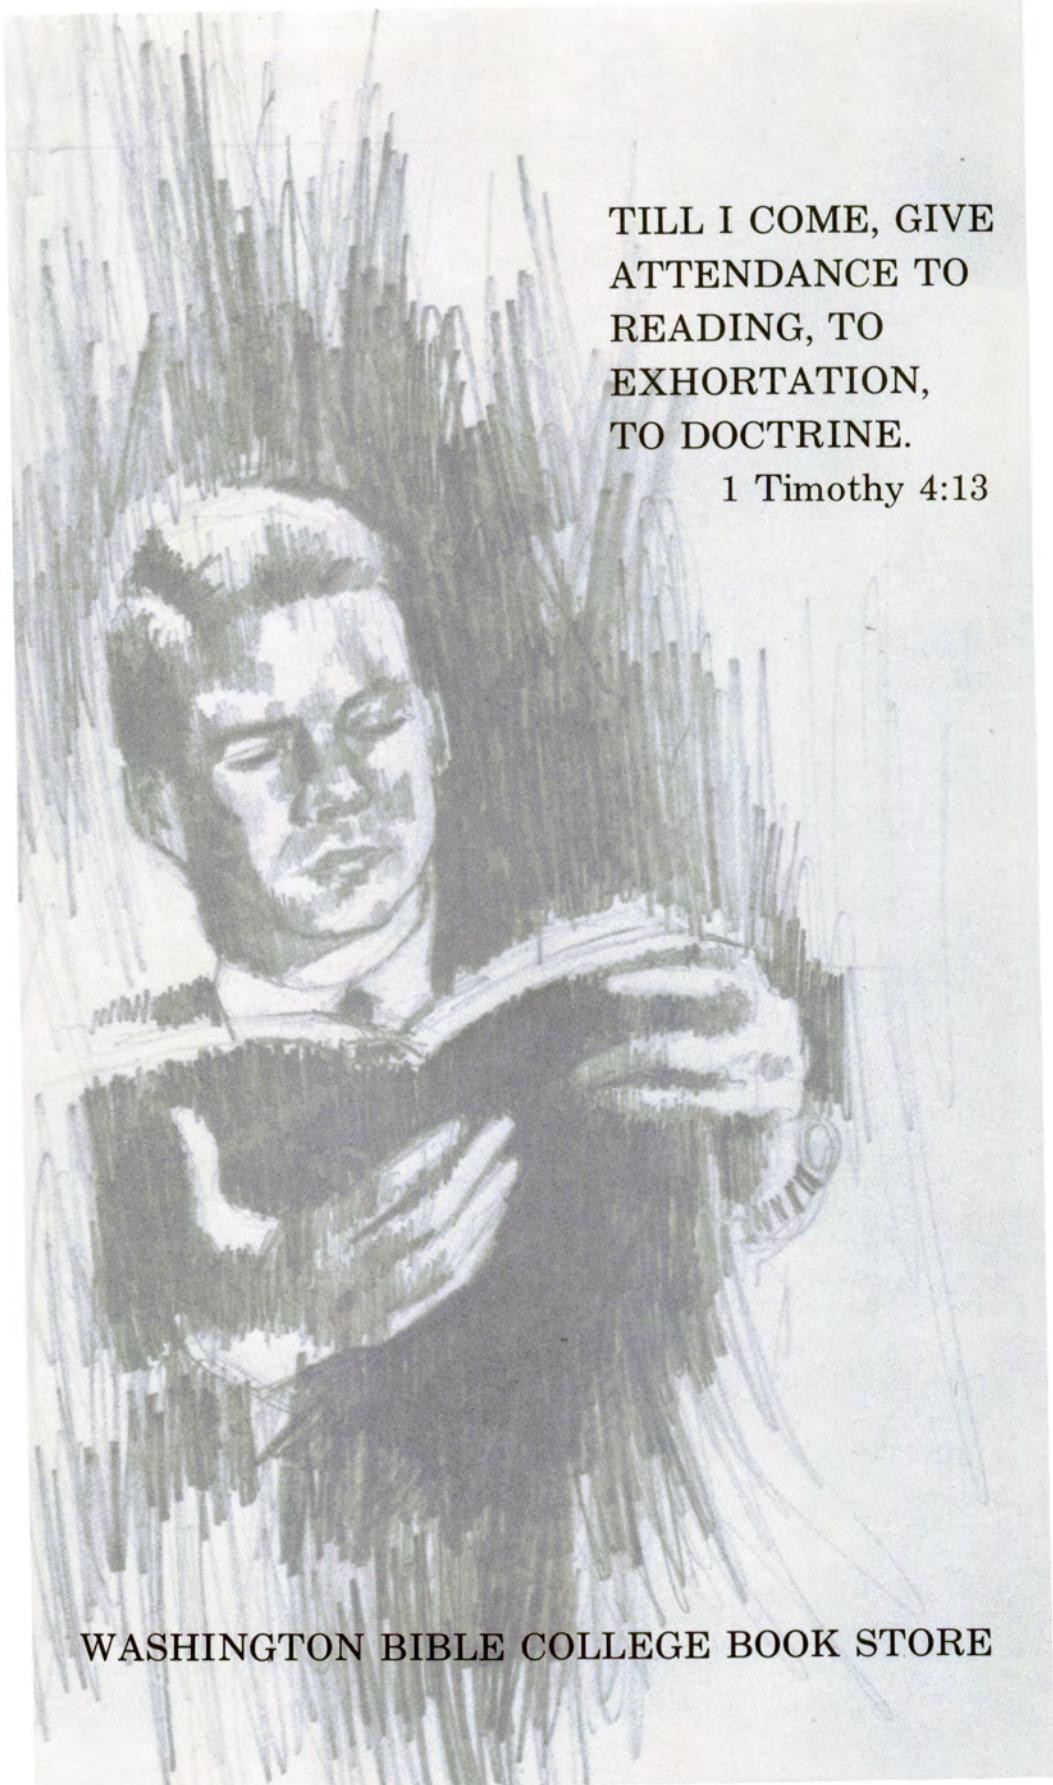

May the peace of God, my Father,
Rule my life in everything,
That I may be calm to comfort
Sick and sorrowing.

May the love of Jesus fill me,
As the waters fill the sea;
Him exalting, self abasing,
This is victory.

May I run the race before me,
Strong and brave to face the foe,
Looking only unto Jesus
As I onward go.

May His beauty rest upon me
As I seek the lost to win,
And may they forget the channel,
Seeing only Him.

"For if you possess these qualities increasingly, they will render your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ neither inactive nor unproductive . . ."

Do you possess an accurate knowledge of God's character? Or does your life convey a tarnished image of Christ? The accuracy and productivity of your knowledge of God reflects itself in your life.

The 1971 Milestone mirrors the impact that pursuing a knowledge of God has on you, the student. Bible College education involves searching the depths of the Bible and finding the actual character of God. How does this knowledge affect your life? Knowledge of God becomes valuable when Christ-like qualities result. Are these qualities conveyed in your life?

". . . while he who does not have these is blind, shortvisioned, oblivious of the cleansing from his former sins." — II Peter 1:8-9
